GO-AHEAD FOR TECH COLLEGE

PLANS to open a high-tech University Technical College in Harlow have been approved by the Government.

One of 15 new UTCs approved by ministers earlier this week, the specialist college will be a joint venture between Harlow College and Anglia Ruskin University and give students aged 14-19 the opportunity to pick up vocational skills alongside academic qualifications.

The flagship academy will specialise in environmental engineering and medical technology, reflecting plans to build a new MedTech campus in the heart of Harlow's new Enterprise Zone.

It will also offer a broad general curriculum incorporating the core subjects of English, maths and science.

Before turning 16, students will spend 60 per cent of their time on academic subjects and 40 per cent learning technical skills. After 16, the ratio of aca-demical to technical learning is reversed to better prepare students for employment.

Harlow's UTC bid was spearheaded by Harlow MP Robert Halfon, who told the Star it will "transform" the lives of youngsters in the town.

"This is an incredible day for Harlow," he said. "This will mean millions of pounds of new investment for the town, new jobs and regeneration. It will give local youngsters the chance to get high-tech skills and opportunities for the future."

He added: "Harlow is an entrepreneurial town and we already have the highest business growth in the UK. The Enterprise Zone opening next year will give us 5,000 extra jobs, and low-tax business climate."

"But this new University Technical College will help to make sure that local Harlow youngsters benefit. For far too long we suffered from a problem with youth unemployment. This new high-tech apprentice school will be a huge boost."

The UTC, which is expected to be based at Harlow College's Velizy Avenue campus, will be awarded around £10m of funding to either convert and equip existing buildings or pay for a complete new build.

After welcoming its first intake of students within the next two years, the high-tech facility will then be funded in the same way as existing academy schools.

Harlow College principal Colin Hindmarch said: "The new UTC will have a strong focus on developing the skills needed for employment. This will considerably increase the job chances for young people in Harlow, Essex and the wider area."

"Harlow UTC is ideally placed at the Harlow College campus. It's easily accessible with excellent road and public transport links and there will be shared services with UTC students being able to take advantage of our excellent college facilities."

Disabled OAP latest victim of scooter thieves

Couple 'overwhelmed' by generosity of Star readers

AN elderly couple whose mobility scooters were stolen say they have been overwhelmed by the response to their plight.

After the Star reported on the thefts last week, Roy and Joy Ashbee, of Old Harlow, have been inundated with offers of support and donations from complete strangers.

"Since the story was published I have had a lot of people stop me to express their condolences and offer money towards new scooters," said Roy. "It has been extremely overwhelming and has really restored our faith in human nature."

Roy, who says he has "gratefully" been declining any monetary contributions, said he would donate a £110 cash sum sent anonymously to the Star office to a local charity. "We were never looking for people's charity and, although we are extremely touched, we think there are better causes the money could go towards," he said.

The couple have now had confirmation their insurance will cover the cost to replace the stolen scooter and expect to pay around £200 for repairs on the second which was smashed up before being dumped by the thieves.

"We want to say a big thank you to all the amazing people who have offered their support," Roy added. "It is truly appreciated."

A DISABLED pensioner says he has been left a "virtual prisoner" in his own home after his mobility scooter was stolen.

David West (73), of Commonfields, Harlow, became the third victim of thieves in just over a week after having his TGA three-wheeler taken from outside his home last Wednesday night.

Mr West, who suffers from Parkinson's and asthma and struggles to walk without the aid of a frame, had just read about the scooter theft heartbreak of his friends Roy and Joy Ashbee in last week's Star when a friend knocked on his door to tell him his own vehicle had been taken.

"I couldn't believe it," he said. "No sooner had I read the front page of the Star about my friends' scooters being nicked than I was being told my own one had been pinched."

"I can't walk very far anymore and used that scooter to get everywhere. Now I'm a virtual prisoner in my own home."

By CHRIS MOSS, News Editor
chris.moss@hertsexnews.co.uk

"I just can't understand why anyone would be so heartless as to want to rob me of my independence. It's shocking and very upsetting."

Mr West, who has lived in Harlow for 50 years, left his scooter to charge outside his house overnight when it was taken.

"I've lived here for years and never had any problems before," he said. "I'd left the scooter in its usual spot to charge overnight and the next thing I knew it was gone."

"I used to go everywhere on it, from heading down the shops to travelling up to North Weald. Now I don't know how I'll get about."

Police are currently investigating the theft, which happened between 5pm last Wednesday (May 23) and 5.30pm the following day.

Inspector Tom Mitchell said: "We have had a couple of scooter thefts recently. The victims rely on these vehicles to get around and have a decent quality of life."

"These thieves are stooping so low as to steal from the most vulnerable members of our community and do not deserve protecting."

"We are urging anyone with information to do the right thing and let us know who is carrying out these mindless thefts so that we can swiftly bring them to justice."

Anyone with information about the thefts should contact Harlow Police on 101.

Scissor stab accused guilty of GBH but cleared of attempted murder

A MAN accused of attempted murder after claiming he heard voices in his head telling him to stab his victim has been cleared of the charge.

Barry Payne (46) picked up a pair of scissors and stabbed Barry Thompson before telephoning the emergency services to tell them what he had done.

Mr Thompson suffered a nick wound to the heart which, although not fatal, was life-threatening. He was airlifted to hospital where he underwent emergency surgery to stem the bleeding.

Payne, of Northbrooks, Harlow, was acquitted at Chelmsford Crown Court on Friday of the charge of attempted murder but but found guilty of wounding with intent to cause grievous bodily harm.

Judge Anthony Goldstaub called for psychiatric reports and adjourned sentence until July 2.

During the trial the jury was played a recording of the 999 call made by Payne in which he told the operator: "Hello mate, I've stabbed someone. They're in my house."

Asked where he stabbed the victim, Payne replied: "In the heart." Asked why he had done it, Payne said: "I don't know why. Get the ambulance here now."

PC Stephen Hicks told the court that when he and another officer arrived at the house Payne had opened the front door and showed them to a bedroom.

"He sat down on the bed and I saw the other male, the victim," said PC Hicks. "At first I couldn't see any wound but when I got between the two males I could see blood on the bedding."

"Payne placed his head in his hands and said 'I stabbed him, I stabbed him'. He was arrested and placed in handcuffs."

"He was drinking when he sat down and after he was arrested he picked the can up. I told him to put the can down and he put it on the floor. Later, Mr Thompson said: "I tried to defend myself, he only managed to stab me twice."

Payne, who declined to give evidence during the trial, had claimed he was directed to carry out the stabbing by voices in his head.

But he had later told a psychiatrist that Mr Thompson had been staying intermittently at his home without paying his way and had also been given free alcohol.

Payne said that as a result he had been forced to sleep in a chair, telling police: "I always felt used. I warned him about keeping hanging round."

During his time at the police station after his arrest, he said: "I can't believe I did it. I was sleeping, just woke up and stabbed him."

"A voice in my head has been telling me to do it for a while. Voices in my head told me to do it. I just picked up the scissors. I've heard voices telling me to do bad things."

Assault victim refused to hand over cash

POLICE are appealing for witnesses to an assault on a 61-year-old man in Shawbridge, Harlow.

The victim was approached by three men – two white and the other black – who asked him for money. When he refused to hand any over they assaulted him.

The incident took place between 6pm and 6.35pm on Sunday, May 20.

Anyone with information is asked to contact police at Harlow on 101 or Crimestoppers on 0800 555 111.

Andrew's helping charity cash in on the value of vinyl

WHEN you're trying to get the best price for your treasured record collection, it pays to speak to an expert.

And there are few more knowledgeable than Andrew Pryor, former managing director of the British wing of music giant EMI.

The 64-year-old, of Churchgate Street, Old Harlow, is lending prospective sellers his considerable experience in a bid to raise cash for Cancer Research UK.

Andrew, pictured right, is inviting anyone wondering if their old stack of vinyls has become a hidden goldmine to get in touch with him and he will draw on his worldwide network of contacts to get the best possible price.

In exchange, record owners can keep up to 85 per cent of the final sale figure, with at least 15 per cent going to the charity – although higher donations will be welcomed.

Andrew, who has worked with everyone from Queen, Abba and Tina Turner to the Pet Shop Boys, Radiohead and Blur, said: "I think it's possible that people are sitting on collections in cupboards or attics, unaware of their potential value. A lot of the albums I see aren't worth very much, of course, but I often come across rare versions that are.

"The Beatles are obviously one of the biggest sellers a lot of their records aren't really worth anything, but the right ones can go for up to £5,000.

By JAMES BURTON
star@hertsessexnews.co.uk

I also once sold a rare promotional version of U2's The Joshua Tree for £9,000. "These things still exist in people's collections, although they're not commonplace – but I can frequently get £200, £300 or even £400 for people's collections even if there isn't anything especially remarkable in them."

The past decade or so has seen a fundamental shift in the way people listen to music, with many rejecting even CDs in favour of digital download services like iTunes.

Yet amid such a pessimistic backdrop, Andrew said vintage vinyl was making a comeback among a new generation eager for something a tad less soulless.

"Vinyl sales went up 44 per cent in the UK last year, even as CD sales went down because of downloading," he said.

"There are several reasons: firstly there are a lot of buyers in the dance market, especially DJs, then there are of course collectors in my age group, but another huge new market is students and young people."

To find out more about Andrew's charity valuation offer, call him on (01279) 428122 or email andrew-ptyor@sky.com.

Town set to party for jubi-gee celebrations

HARLOW is gearing up for a weekend of festivities as people across the town prepare to celebrate the Queen's diamond jubilee.

More than 60 events – including street parties, fetes, tea parties and musical concerts – are planned over the extended holiday period with many people taking advantage of the extra day off work to organise their own celebrations.

Harlow Council has got into the party spirit by handing out a total of 60 'party in a box' kits complete with bunting, flags and other decorative items to local party planners, while 16 other community events have benefited from a share of the authority's £3,300 party fund.

The authority is also backing Monday's Party In The Park, a huge celebration hosted by local faith group Heart 4 Harlow in the Town Park. Starting at 4pm and with live music, hot and cold refreshments and the lighting of Harlow's own jubilee beacon, the event is shaping up to be one of the biggest parties of the weekend.

On Sunday the Harlow branch of the Royal British Legion will be holding a fun day at its headquarters in Latton Common Road. Starting at midday and open to all, attractions will include live music, line dancing, a magic show, children's rides, a bouncy castle, barbecue, craft stalls and side shows.

For those looking to celebrate a little closer to home, many neighbourhoods across the town are planning to hold their own street parties.

Those planned for Sunday include celebrations in Church Leys, Quarry Spring, Wrights Court, Seeleys, Moorfield and Potter Street, while areas marking the jubilee on Monday include Churchgate Street, Ayletts Field, Old Harlow, Mulberry Green, Ash Tree Field and Churchfield.

Other neighbourhoods celebrating over the weekend include Morningsons, Tickenhall Drive, Church Leys, Moorfields, Doulton

Close, Horshams, Torkildsen Way, The Fortunes, Willowfield, Seymours, East Park, Kingsland, The Maples, Priory Court, Woodcroft, Fir Park, Herons Wood, Cock Green and Whieldon Grange.

Schools and nurseries will be having their own celebrations while events are also being staged by the 1st Kingsmoor Scout Group, the Hobbyfriends activity group, the children's ward at Princess Alexandra Hospital, Harlow Commons and Great Parndon Brownies and the Annabelle Rose Foundation.

Local businesses are even getting in on the fun. Tile Giant in Edinburgh Way will be hosting a fundraising fun day on Sunday featuring children's activities and a raffle. Two members of staff will also be going head-to-head to raise money for the Donna Louise Children's Hospice Trust by competing in a gruelling six-hour static bike ride.

If street parties aren't your thing, the Horns & Horseshoes pub at Harlow Common is putting on a three-day jubilee music festival to raise money for Help For Heroes.

Co-organised by Noxious Toyz frontman Stieff Brett, the weekenders kicks off on Saturday with a punk and indie bill headlined by Sham 69, with rockabilly and psychobilly bands playing on Sunday and a ska and reggae chillout day on Monday. Day tickets cost £5 on the gate and camping pitches are also available at £5 per night.

Send us your jubilee pictures

If you're holding a jubilee celebration this weekend and want your photos to be featured in next week's Star, email your pictures to star@hertsessexnews.co.uk. Please remember to include the type of event, the location and the day on which it took place.

Pitney Bowes confirms plans to move 450 staff away from Harlow

HUNDREDS of staff at one of Harlow's biggest employers have been told they must relocate to Hatfield or risk losing their jobs. Office supplies firm Pitney Bowes announced this week that it was pushing ahead with plans to move two-thirds of its Harlow workforce - around 450 employees - to new offices in the Hertfordshire town. The remaining 200 staff will stay in Harlow, although they will be moving out of the Pinnacles site occupied by the company for the past 45 years to new premises elsewhere in the town. In a statement released on Tuesday, the company said it intended to retain as many staff as possible in the move and plans to implement a new office strategy to minimise the inconvenience of additional commute time by allowing some employees to work remotely. Patrick Jelly, UK managing director of Pitney Bowes, said: "It was our original intention to find suitable premises in Harlow and the business worked very closely with the local council to make this a reality. "Regrettably the options available did not meet our requirements, leading the business to conclude that the relocation of 450 of our people to Hatfield is required." The decision to relocate was taken after an operational review deemed the Harlow site unfit for purpose. The firm subsequently looked into the possibility of purchasing the former Nortel offices in London

Road but came to the conclusion the vacant site was "commercially unviable" as it would have taken a significant amount of time and investment to refurbish. Mr Jelly added: "We are pleased, however, that we are able to renew our commitment to the Harlow community by investing in new premises in the area for around 200 staff. "This means that we will continue to play an important part in the Harlow economy."

Woman and dog bitten in attack

A DOG owner has spoken of her horror after being attacked by another dog while out walking her pet.

Marlene Mardle (58), of Coalport Close, Harlow required hospital treatment after being bitten on the hand and leg as she desperately tried to drag the Staffordshire Bull Terrier off her Jack Russell, Bella.

According to Ms Mardle, the dog bolted from a house in Perry Springs and chased the pair before locking its jaws around Bella's throat.

"I was absolutely frantic," she said. "This ferocious dog just came haring round the corner and attacked us from behind."

"I didn't know what to do. I tried to drag it off Bella but it had its jaws locked around her throat."

The bull terrier then turned its attention to Ms Mardle, biting her fingers before going for her leg while two other women - one of whom Ms Mardle believes was the dog's owner - tried in vain to get the animal under control.

"I was in a right state, completely covered in blood and in a complete panic," she added. "In the end a man appeared and between the four of us we managed to get the dog off Bella. None of them said a word to me, not even to ask me how I was."

"It was only because two teenage boys stopped to help on their way home from school that I managed to get Bella back home. I can't thank them enough."

Bella was rushed to the vet, where she received treatment for wounds to her neck and an abscess on her leg. A shaken Ms Mardle was then taken to hospital herself by a neighbour.

"I still can't move two of my fingers and I've got a nasty bruise on my knee where I was bitten," she said. "Not only that but I've got vet bills potentially running into hundreds of pounds. As far as I'm concerned the dog's owner should be made to pay up."

She added: "Next time it could be a child. I just want to warn people walking their dogs in the area to be wary of this dog. In my view it should be destroyed."

Police confirmed they are investigating the incident and have appealed to anyone who witnessed the attack - which took place on Monday, May 21 at 3.30pm - to contact officers on 101.

MP opens charity's recycling superstore

DISPOSING of unwanted items just got easier with the official opening of a new 'reusable goods' superstore in Harlow.

The shop run by local environmental charity ECCO at the St James Centre stocks everything from quality second-hand clothes to nearly new furniture. All profits go towards the organisation's work in the community.

The store was officially opened by Harlow MP Robert Halfon on Friday.

ECCO spokesman Sean Folan said: "People want an easy and responsible way to donate items that still have life left in them rather than throwing them in the bin."

"Our new store allows people to drive up and drop items off, but we also offer a collection service if transport is needed."

Party fun in aid of hospital's heart unit

KIDDI CARU Children celebrated the diamond jubilee with a fundraising party in aid of the hospital that saved the life of one of their pals.

The event was held in the Church Langley nursery's garden area and raised over £900 for the Freeman Hospital's child heart unit in Newcastle, which gave life-saving treatment to one of the pre-school's youngsters last year.

Nursery manager Kelly Walker-Reid said: "The treatment and support provided by the hospital made such a huge difference to the family whose child needed their care. We wanted to do something to help raise money for this wonderful cause."

Capsule a snapshot in time

KATHERINES PRIMARY Pupils at the school in Brookside, Harlow, have buried a time capsule in the grounds.

Drawings, collages, messages and a copy of the Star were packed into the canister. The aim is to create a little piece of history that can be re-visited and added to every 30 years by future pupils.

Class teacher Rosie Burr said: "The time capsule has been a massive success with all the children having an input into something that will soon become an important part of the school's history."

"Everyone really enjoyed being part of the process and the children were very excited at the prospect of their work having an impact on future school children."

The capsule is located just outside reception, and a plaque commemorating it will soon be erected.

BUSY BEES There was the chance for children and staff to get very messy during a play workshop with members of the Sure Start Centre.

Spirits were high as they took turns on a series of play stations during the session.

The activities, which encouraged group play and interaction between the children, included a number of components such as custard, jelly, water and paint.

"The session was very successful and all the children thoroughly enjoyed getting messy," said Debbie Walker, deputy manager at the nursery in The Greenway, Harlow.

"Some of the children were very new to the nursery and therefore quite shy but they soon got stuck into the activities and were making friends in no time."

Labour team take over cabinet posts

By CHRIS MOSS, News Editor
chris.moss@hertsexnews.co.uk

THREE weeks after his party swept to power in the local elections, Harlow Council's new Labour leader has unveiled his cabinet team.

Mark Wilkinson was formally elected as leader at Thursday's annual council meeting after steering his party to victory over the Conservatives on May 3.

With a majority of seven in the council chamber – 20 seats to the Tories' 13 – his first job was to appoint the Labour administration's six portfolio holders.

Deputy leader Jean Clark will take the brief for community and social inclusion, Rod Truan will head up housing and new councillor Emma Toal has been given responsibility for youth and citizenship.

Election campaign manager Jon Clempner has been made portfolio holder for the environment, former council leader Mike Danvers will take charge of resources and Tony Durcan will oversee regeneration and enterprise.

Clr Wilkinson told the Star: "It's an honour to be elected as leader of Harlow Council but I'm fully aware that the real hard work starts now."

"I now have a team in place to lead on the issues which are important to improving Harlow as a great place to live."

In a shake-up of the cabinet system introduced by the former Conservative administration last year, a further three Labour councillors

– Dennis Palmer, Daniella Pritchard and Phil Waite – will also be eligible to attend meetings of the cabinet and speak on relevant issues at the discretion of the leader, although they will not have voting rights.

The council also resolved to reserve three non-portfolio holding cabinet seats with full voting rights for members of the opposition, an offer turned down by the Tories who opted to name a shadow cabinet instead.

To assist the cabinet in developing its policies, two overview working groups were also set up – one for resources, housing and governance and the other for community, citizenship, regeneration and environment – along with an audit and standards committee, scrutiny committee and call-in sub committee.

According to the new administration there will be no increase in costs associated with any of the changes.

Clr Wilkinson added: "My administration is very aware of the challenges that the council faces and of the difficult choices that are ahead."

"An immediate priority is to look at how we can provide more social housing and improve the environment. I am committed to listening to local people and this is clearly going to be important in the coming months."

COUNCIL MATTERS

By Harlow Council leader Mark Wilkinson

Chance to celebrate our pride in Harlow

I AM very proud and privileged to be writing my first article for the Star as leader of Harlow Council but more importantly the first Labour leader for 10 years. The residents of Harlow have not returned us to power just to be proud, though, but to do a job of work.

It was clear during the election campaign that voters were not only concerned about national issues but also many issues in Harlow.

All 20 Labour councillors on Harlow Council are aware of the task that is facing us. It is clear that much-loved services like Pets' Corner, The Playhouse and the paddling pools all face an uncertain future and it would be wrong for the new administration to make promises this early and to raise expectations.

However, what we can promise is that we will try to do everything we can to keep these services going.

Grants from the Government have been cut by 27 per cent in Harlow over the past two years and we will prioritise every penny we have. We recognise, however, that this is a year of celebration for the country and we know that as a town we need to join in those celebrations and to promote Harlow and what it has achieved.

The town has much to be proud of. The Gibberd Gallery for instance has a new exhibition called Harlow Open 2012 that opens to the public on June 8. It will feature work from artists born or currently living or working in Harlow.

We will also be holding a 'Party in the Park' on Monday which will not only celebrate the Queen's diamond jubilee but also Harlow's 65th birthday.

As someone who was born in Harlow I have always been aware of everything that Harlow has to offer. I believe that it is important our whole community has the chance to celebrate.

New chairwoman scraps civic dinner

VETERAN Labour councillor Maggie Hulcoop is the new chairwoman of Harlow Council.

Clr Hulcoop was elected to the post at Thursday's annual council meeting. She will be supported by fellow Labour councillor Paul Schroder as vice-chairman. In her acceptance speech, Clr Hulcoop announced a series of changes for the forthcoming year – including plans to scrap the civic dinner in favour of a public Celebrate Harlow event.

"It is a great privilege to be chosen as chair of the council in such an historic year," she said.

"We celebrate our 65th anniversary, the Queen's diamond jubilee and the Olympic Games torch parade. We will never again see three major events such as these."

She added: "I have decided to cancel the civic dinner this year. With all the cutbacks that people are experiencing in their lives I feel that this gesture shows our commitment to playing our part in saving expense where we can as a council."

THOUSANDS of people lined Harlow's sun-soaked streets on Sunday as performance art spectacular Sparks Will Fly rolled into town.

Led by mythical Greek champion Boreas Zephyr – dubbed the 'Greek god of the north winds' – a dazzling procession of performers wound their way through the town centre, travelling along Broad Walk to the Water Gardens before heading back to Market Square.

Among the larger-than-life champion's entourage were dancers from Stewards School and the Efua Sey Cultural Academy, youngsters from inclusive performing arts group Razed Roof and musical acts including Harlow Steel Band.

The arts showcase – organised by Essex County Council to coincide with the build-up to the London Olympics and the arrival of the torch in Essex in July – then came to a bombastic finale during which Boreas was presented with Harlow's 'Glass Bead', a work of art featuring miniature replicas of some of the town's most famous sculptures.

The bead, created by local artist Amanda Westbury, will be taken to Hylands Park in Chelmsford where it will be used as a playing piece in a glass bead game between Boreas and another champion – Marina Mightier – on July 6, the day the Olympic torch is due to arrive in Essex. New Harlow Council chairwoman Maggie Hulcopp said: "The atmosphere in the town centre was dynamic."

"It was great to have hundreds of people in the town centre and hundreds of people from the community involved in the performances."

A day at the races for Queen's silver jubilee

By CHRIS MOSS, News Editor
chris.moss@hertsessexnews.co.uk

ANYONE stuck for ideas on how to celebrate the Queen's diamond jubilee this weekend could take a few pointers from the patriotic patrons of Old Harlow pub The Crown.

According to Nostalgia reader Pat Kirtland, the regulars certainly knew how to throw a party – marking the Queen's first 25 years on the throne with a right royal knees-up at the Epsom Derby.

Charismatic landlady Peggy Connolly laid on a special coach trip to the racecourse in June 1977, even bringing her own chef along to prepare a feast of jellied eels and other East End favourites.

Pennymead resident Pat, who sent in these two photographs of the coach party preparing to leave the pub in Market Street, said it was a day to remember.

"As you can see from the group photo there were loads of us on the trip that day," she said.

"There were some real characters who used to visit the pub regularly back then and we had a right laugh on the journey down.

"When we got there Peggy and her chef set up tables decorated with flags and red, white and blue before he served up jellied eels.

"It was a strange experience rubbing shoulders with gents in top hats and the ladies in their expensive dresses, but we all had a lovely time. Peggy was a wonderful woman and a brilliant landlady."

Although neither Pat nor her husband Len (80) were gamblers, Pat said they had a stroke of luck on the day.

"We'd never bet on the horses before but Len decided he'd have a flutter and his horse came in first," she said. "I think the bookie knew we were green because he tried to fob us off at first, but in the end we left the races a few bob better off than we started."

Pat said that many of the group in the photo had since passed away, but she could remember quite a few names.

"There was Charlie and Grace Watson, Dolly Lewis, Peter and Joyce Boxal and Jackie Berrett. There's loads more whose surnames I never knew.

"Hopefully the photos will jog a few memories; it would be lovely to hear from a few of the old faces again."

➤ A father was stabbed in the stomach by an irate motorist in front of his two young children. The 26-year-old painter and decorator was taken to Princess Alexandra Hospital for treatment after being stabbed with a five-inch blade.

➤ The strains of "alright, alright" could be heard emerging from Harlow Police Station where Michael Barrymore was helping to back a campaign to warn Harlow schoolchildren of 'stranger danger'. His involvement in the initiative includes an appearance in a video created for local schools.

➤ A Labour Party campaigner was rushed to hospital after being attacked by a dog while he was delivering election leaflets on behalf of parliamentary candidate Stan Newens. The man had the top of his finger bitten off as he pushed leaflets through the door of a house in Harlow. Mr Newens said: "We have had a number of mishaps but this is the worst."

➤ Work will start later this year on a new railway line linking Liverpool Street and Stansted Airport. It will pass beneath the M11 into a tunnel beneath the runway before arriving at a three platform station built under the new airport terminal.

Right to Buy helps dreams come true

SIR, The Coalition Government is giving council tenants in Harlow the chance to buy their home under our reinvigorated Right to Buy scheme.

Householders who have worked hard and done well can now get a discount of up to £75,000 to help achieve their dream of home-ownership.

And our intention is that, for the first time, every extra home sold under the scheme will be replaced by a brand new affordable home to help meet the housing needs of other hard-working families in the area.

We are determined to ensure every eligible tenant has the information they need to decide whether taking this life-changing step is the right choice for them. I'd urge anyone who wants to find out whether they have the Right to Buy to contact their landlord.

Tenants in council properties should contact Harlow Council on (01279) 446655 or email contact@harlow.gov.uk. Other social housing tenants may have a 'preserved' Right to Buy and should contact their landlord to find out more or visit www.facebook.com/righttobuy.

Grant Shapps, MP and Minister for Housing & Local Government

Benefit cuts will hit those most in need

SIR, I read with disgust that the Government is contemplating a further raid on hand-to-mouth benefits.

Targeting claimants might be good politics but it's poor policy. Despite claims that fraud and laziness abound, a reference to the evidence quickly distinguishes fact from fiction, a fiction that has led to an increase in physical attacks on the disabled for appearing too able-bodied.

The Government's own statistics show that under one per cent of disability claims are fraudulent, with less than 18 per cent of the total benefit spend in the UK going on sickness, disability and unemployment benefit combined.

The vast majority of the £100bn we spend on welfare goes on servicing the ageing population. Are pensioners to be targeted next? As the demographic most likely to vote, probably not.

The rationale for further cuts is that this will encourage people to be less dependent on the state and find jobs. It was the same rationale used about cuts to housing benefit, over 90 per cent of claims for which come from people in work.

The simple solution here is to build more affordable housing or cap rents, as they do in most other civilised countries. But this Government would rather demonise the hard-working individual receiving this help or, even worse, move them away from their jobs and families so that they are even more reliant on the state.

I work for a charity helping people in financial need. We are susceptible to criticism that our appraisal of these issues is skewed. They are, in favour of cold hard facts and the knowledge that these cuts will leave many of those least culpable for our economic woes hungry, cold and stigmatised.

What is happening here is unjust and in an educated, democratic society everyone has a responsibility to stand up against these benefit lies.

Reader photo of the week

RAINBOWS are one of nature's wonders and reader Susie Devereux, of Northbrooks, Harlow, was in the right place at the right time to photograph this one.

"I nipped out between showers to walk my dog and saw this beautiful rainbow," she explained. "It was worth the soaking I got on the rest of the walk."

Conservatives saved town from oblivion

SIR, Cllr Mike Danvers' attempt to belittle the Conservative council's achievements (Letters, May 24) only goes to show just how blind to reality Labour are. In adding the phrase 'deficit denial' to the English language they threaten the future not just of Harlow but our nation.

Labour left this town and this country facing bankruptcy. The level of debt is unimaginable; figures in billions or trillions are like trying to describe eternity, but this is what we have to deal with now and for generations to come unless we can face up to our responsibilities.

We would not be having these arguments had it not been for Labour. Yes, banks played a part but Labour's strategy of intoxicating the country with a 10-year spending binge has left us with a 30-year hangover. Labour is tempting us to go back to the bar for just one more free drink but someone had to call time and that responsibility fell to Conservatives.

Where are their plans for Parndon Wood, Pets' Corner, The Playhouse, sorting out parking, re-opening public toilets, cutting the grass more frequently? Where was their manifesto for running Harlow? Where was their budget? What would they have done about the £500,000 a year being swallowed up by the Welfare Rights and Advice Service? How would they have funded further massive subsidies for council tenants?

Labour want to rebuild that socialist 'Berlin Wall' around Harlow that made the very name of the town a national joke, to live in splendid, deluded isolation once again.

Four years ago Conservatives were left staring into a black hole. We rescued this town from oblivion but now we're back at the bar and about to embark on another binge.

Cllr Mike Garnett (Conservative)
Civic Centre, Harlow

Does Labour support austerity measures?

SIR, I was not invited to the recent meeting at Moot House in Harlow addressed by Ed Miliband and so I was denied the opportunity to put the following questions.

The last government of Greece imposed an austerity programme that has inflicted massive hardship on the people of that country. Pensions, wages and jobs have been slashed. Some people are now dependent on food handouts, some have been reduced to sleeping on the streets. British television has shown the shameful spectacle of inhabitants of a modern European capital city being forced to rely on free clinics established by an international aid charity for their health care.

It was a Pan-Hellenic Socialist Movement (PASOK) government that imposed the austerity programme. PASOK, is the Greek affiliate of the Socialist International. Mr Miliband is leader of the Labour Party which is also affiliated to said body.

Is he prepared to condemn PASOK for imposing the austerity programme?

If not, are we then to conclude that he fully endorses the Greek austerity programme and that he would be prepared to impose a similar programme should a similar crisis arise if he was Prime Minister in Britain?

John Wake

UK Citizencard is my only form of ID

SIR, I have got a UK Citizencard for identification because I can't drive and can't afford a passport.

I used to always buy cigarettes at Asda and they accepted my ID, but then all of a sudden they refused it. They said they had never heard of a Citizencard.

A Citizencard is legal identification in the UK. It's got my photograph, signature, age and date of birth. Asda say only driving licences or a passport are acceptable but other shops accept Citizencards so why can't they?

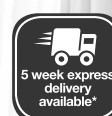

Don't they think about people who can't drive because of illness or people who can't afford a passport?

Queen of the knitters

AS people across the UK prepare to celebrate the Queen's diamond jubilee this weekend, one patriotic great-grandma has been busier than most.

Sheila Carter (75), from Southampton, has spent more than 500 hours knitting her very own royal tribute - using 4,500ft of wool in the process! The grand centrepiece of her masterpiece is a metre-long woollen barge with knitted models of the Queen and the Duke of Edinburgh sitting on thrones while cruising down the River Thames.

Featuring an estimated 1.8 million stitches and almost 30 different shades of wool, Mrs Carter also knitted a flotilla of boats sailing alongside the royal barge.

With incredible attention to detail, she has even included onlookers and a woollen replica of Tower Bridge.

Mrs Carter told reporters: "I like the Royal Family and am always interested to read about them.

"With this year's Jubilee coming up I thought it would be an interesting thing to do and quite spectacular. I got a bit of wool and started knitting. I just got carried away with it!"

On Monday, June 4, thousands of beacons will be lit around the world to commemorate the Queen's 60 year reign over the UK and as head of the Commonwealth and there will be a spectacular concert at Buckingham Palace attended by the Queen, the Duke of Edinburgh and other members of the royal family. For those without tickets, the concert will be broadcast live on BBC One, Radio 2, and on big screens in Hyde Park, St James's Park and The Mall.

Finally, on Tuesday, June 5, there will be a service of thanksgiving and a carriage procession, when the Queen and other members of her family will attend at St. Paul's Cathedral. It will include a prayer written, at the Queen's direction, by the Chapter of St Paul's Cathedral in honour of the Diamond Jubilee. A 'Diamond Choir' of children from around the UK will sing a specially composed song.

Later in the day, the royal family will travel from Westminster Hall to Buckingham Palace by carriage, along a processional route. Shortly after their arrival, the Royal family will appear on the balcony when there will be a RAF fly-past. The events will be shown on big screens in Hyde Park, St James's Park and Trafalgar Square.

Family join walk as tribute to grandad

TAKING part in the St Clare Hospice Midnight Walk can truly be a group activity.

You can walk as part of a group of friends or colleagues from work, school or clubs. Or you may choose to do it with members of your family.

That's the case for Natalie Dearman (25), who will be part of the 'Ron's Angels' team along with her mother, Janet, sisters Lauren and Megan, aunt Paula Machin and Lauren's friend, Liz Hargrave.

They will be walking in memory of Natalie's grandad Ron Horne, who lived in Old Harlow with his wife Joan. Ron passed away at St Clare Hospice on December 21 last year following a battle with cancer since being diagnosed in January last year.

"The team at St Clare Hospice were fantastic and provided much-needed support to him and the family," said Natalie. "I'm so grateful to everyone at the hospice for helping to make him comfortable in his final hours and want to raise as much as possible to help them continue the great work they do."

This year's Midnight Walk is being held on Saturday, June 16. "The day of the Midnight Walk would have been grandad's 73rd birthday so we thought it would be a fitting tribute to take part," added Natalie.

The Star-backed Midnight Walk is a fantastic event and so far more than 950 people – women and men – have signed up and started raising much-needed sponsorship which will help pay for specialist day therapy, outpatient appointments, inpatient care and the hospice's community team who visiting patients in their own homes.

The 10km walk starts from the Water Gardens car park in Harlow town centre at 10.30pm and follows a route around town before returning to the Water Gardens for the finish.

Before the walkers set off there will be on-stage music and games from Heart FM, a pre-walk warm-up to get you in the mood, face painters and the chance to buy a pair of eye-catching flashing bunny ears and fairy wings.

There is still time to register to take part... but time is running out as entry closes next Friday (June 8). Registration costs £15 per person and all walkers will receive a goody bag, T-shirt and medal.

ALMOST 1,000 PEOPLE have already signed up to take part in next month's Midnight Walk – but there's still time for YOU to join them.

Registration costs £15 per person and you can register online at www.stclarehospice.org.uk/midnight.

However, if you would prefer to be sent a registration form, call the fundraising team on (01279) 773750 or email fund@stclarehospice.org.uk.

HARLOW BUSINESS EXHIBITION

Manor of Groves Hotel, High Wych, Sawbridgeworth

Tuesday 12th June 2012 10am - 4pm

HARLOW is the place to do business. This has always been the key message by the founders of the Harlow Business Exhibition - Brenda Bailey, Mick Granger, Khaled Khan and Ian Hudson. Our original aim was to showcase 50 businesses and let people know about the broad range of products and services available in the area.

Our first exhibition was held at Harlow Greyhound Stadium where staff and management were very accommodating and helped put on an excellent event. We surpassed our original aim and were delighted to attract more than 60 exhibitors. Feedback was encouraging and we were delighted to have exceeded people's expectations.

In fact, according to the exhibition survey, 94 per cent of people thought the exhibition was "good" or "very good" and 89 per cent said they might or would acquire new business as a consequence.

The second exhibition in 2011 attracted more than 500 visitors and 80 exhibitors.

This year's event at the Manor of Groves Hotel will be even bigger as we are able to take additional floor space and parking facilities. The new venue means we have been able to build on our success by attracting more than 100 businesses and sponsors. We have created a 'Green Corridor' and we are proud to be showcasing many well-known business names throughout the day.

We are pleased to welcome a number of new exhibitors, including LighterLife, Vodafone and the Rivers Hospital. We also have a packed entertainment schedule for the expected 750 visitors.

Our special thanks go to all our sponsors, especially the Harlow Star and Heart FM who are helping us with regular publicity. In addition, the Sowerby Group has also done an excellent job in managing the event on our behalf.

We look forward to welcoming you to our third event on June 12. Please drop by and say hello.

Brenda Bailey, Mick Granger, Khaled Khan, Ian Hudson

Message from Robert Halfon MP for Harlow

I am delighted to welcome you to the third Harlow Business Exhibition. This event has been organised by four local business people who felt that Harlow needed a forum where businesses and residents in Harlow could come together and find out more about what is going on in the town.

Whether you are looking for customers or suppliers or whether you just want to find out what local businesses can offer, I hope you enjoy the day.

I am passionate about Harlow and I want to help to create a successful and prosperous town which is why I am supporting this event

I really do hope that you "see something different" today

Robert Halfon, MP

That's showbusiness

THERE'S no business like showbusiness – and this year's Harlow Business Exhibition will provide plenty of top quality entertainment for those attending.

Topping the bill will be internationally-acclaimed act Drags Aloud, a multi award-winning Aussie/ Brit comedy troupe with roots in Harlow.

Saucy, sassy and side-splittingly funny, the group have wowed audiences across Australia and the UK with their outrageous blend of physical comedy, soaring vocals and stiletto-sharp satire, and arrive at the exhibition fresh from sold out shows in Dublin and Brighton.

Also performing on the day will be dance and drama students from Harlow College, who will be putting on a specially choreographed commercial and jazz dance routine, while fashion students will be showing off their latest creations on the catwalk.

Visitors will also have the chance to win fantastic prizes by buying tickets for a fundraising raffle in aid of the exhibition's official charity partners, Mike's Den Harlow Phab.

GLAMOUR: Internationally-acclaimed entertainers Drags Aloud will be performing at the Harlow Business Exhibition

Prizes include hampers, beauty treatments, free meals, jewellery, chocolates and champagne kindly donated by local businesses.

Toyota and Lexus dealership Hills is also running a competition on the day, while local funeral firm Daniel Robinson & Sons will be inviting attendees to guess the number of balloons in one of their vehicles for the chance to win fabulous prizes.

With all this on top of a packed schedule of informative seminars run by local firms, 100 exhibitor stands and a 'Green Corridor' featuring the latest innovations from environmentally-friendly companies, this year's exhibition is shaping up to be the biggest and best ever.

Make sure you don't miss out!

Seminars

SOME of the best local business brains will be sharing their experiences and expertise during the day.

A number of keynote speakers will be delivering 30-minute seminars on how to get ahead at all levels of business.

The seminars start at 8am with a 24/7 Business Breakfast, followed by:

- 10.30-11am: Essex Cares – supported employment in West Essex
- 11.15-11.45am: Sowerby – full usability of websites
- Noon-12.30pm: Price Bailey – pensions auto enrolment
- 12.45-1.15pm: Lloyds TSB – financial muscle to power ahead
- 1.30-2pm: Intellectual Property Office – trademarks, patents, designs and copyright
- 2.15-2.45pm: SM Employment – a brief guide to the latest employment law
- 3-3.30pm: The Business Allotment – how to make your brand work harder for you.

JOBSEEKERS from Essex County Council-backed group Essex Cares rolled up their sleeves to lend a helping hand to event organisers The Sowerby Group.

Tasked with filling 1,000 carrier bags with literature and goodies for attendees of next week's event, the hard-working group – some of whom have learning difficulties – gained valuable insight into the world of work while learning more about some of the firms exhibiting.

Sue Sowerby, managing director of The Sowerby Group, said: "It's been a real pleasure having the Essex Cares team on board with us and it has also given them a true insight into the work we are doing for Harlow Business Exhibition. "We are grateful to Essex Cares for sponsoring the carrier bags and are looking forward to seeing them again when they exhibit at the event."

Harlow Playhouse (01279) 431945 Playhouse Square, Harlow

>>musical A new musical loosely based on the popular St Trinian's stories opens tonight (Thursday). Staged by the acclaimed Rare Youth Musical Theatre Group, The Last Daze Of St Swithun's follows the exploits of a group of unruly girls who, following a fracas in a nightclub, are sent to undergo a period of recuperation at an unoccupied country mansion being used by a gang of bank robbers to hide proceeds of their latest robbery. The show runs until Saturday and performances begin at 7.30pm (2.30pm Saturday matinee). Tickets cost £14 (£12 concessions).

>>children Follow the yellow brick road in the company of Image Musical Theatre on Tuesday afternoon with a fun-packed interactive musical adaptation of classic fantasy adventure The Wizard Of Oz. Audience members will get the chance to get up on stage and take part in the action. The show starts at 2.30pm and tickets cost £10 (£8 concessions).

St John's ARC (01279) 442447 St John's Walk, Old Harlow

>>jazz Swing by the ARC tonight (Thursday) as trad-jazz sax supremo Karl Hind sets the joint jumping with a sublime selection of standards from the repertoire of Louis Armstrong, Jelly Roll Morton and Fats Waller. He will be joined by piano professor Martin Litton, ace of bass Keith Donald and legendary sticksman John Petters for the gig, which starts at 8pm. Tickets cost £10 on the door.

>>music There's another lunchtime musical treat tomorrow (Friday) with a guitar and flute recital from Simon Davies and Claire Overbury. Doors open at 12.45pm for lunch, with the concert starting at 1.30pm. Admission costs £4 including lunch.

>>photography Bishopsfield Through The Camera - an exhibition of photographs charting the history of Harlow's Bishopsfield estate - continues, until June 7. Admission is free.

Gatehouse Arts 08739 048739 West Gate, Harlow

>>art As the nation celebrates the Queen's diamond jubilee, why not take a nostalgic trip back to the Coronation era as the West Gate gallery hosts a retro 1950s exhibition from Monday. Then on Tuesday dress up in your finest 1950s clothing to take part in a professional photoshoot. The photos will go on display in an exhibition later in the month. Admission is free.

The Gallery (01279) 426042 Parndon Mill Lane, Harlow

>>art An exhibition of paintings and ceramics by Gillian McKenna and Alia Simpson is now on at The Gallery. Inspired by the artists' respective homelands of Kenya and Sweden, Where Time Stands Still runs until July 1 and admission is free.

School's song and dance spectacular is fit for a queen

AUDIENCES can enjoy a right royal knees-up when Harlow dance school Makin' Steps celebrates the diamond jubilee with a spectacular new show at Leisurezone.

Opening next Thursday, 5212 will turn the clocks back for a breathless musical journey through the past 60 years, taking in everything from the 1950s jives of the Coronation era to the modern street dance workouts of today.

Featuring more than 150 young performers, 130 professionally choreographed dance routines and some 200 songs, the show is shaping up to be the biggest yet staged by the Potter Street-based performing arts group.

By CHRIS MOSS

Head tutor Scott Simpson promised audiences they would not be disappointed.

"With nearly 200 individual songs in the show and over 130 choreographed routines this has been a mammoth task, but we think we have nailed it," he said.

"We have been working hard to authentically recreate the styles of each decade with not only the songs and choreography but also with the hundreds of dazzling costumes we have had created.

"It's been a very exciting time for the performers as this show is so very different to any show we have done before."

He added: "We are very pleased with how it's shaping up and are now looking forward to showing Harlow what we have created in honour of this very special occasion. It really is a show fit for a Queen!"

Tickets for the show are now on sale priced at £15 (£12 for under-16s). To book, call the box office on (01279) 304937 or visit the school's website at www.makin-steps.co.uk.

InForm Razed Roof Harlow Playhouse

FOR anyone who has anything to do with Harlow, this Razed Roof production was a very special event.

Bringing people together from a wide variety of backgrounds is what the 'new town' did in 1949. This feel for community was exactly what Razed Roof achieved in front of a packed audience in the main auditorium of Harlow Playhouse.

The InForm project, funded by the Heritage Lottery Fund, ticked all the boxes when it came to a cultural appreciation of Harlow's history. This was no dry collection of facts but a vibrant re-telling of the stories that Razed Roofers had heard from older residents.

The play unfolded as a series of mini-shows with a linked theme. The audience's attention was immediately grabbed by the boisterous calls of the newspaper sellers announcing the New Town development. Even in 1947 there was opposition to the building proposals and Razed Roof captured the raw emotion of fear and anger about the development.

InForm drew on all the senses. Famous sculptures around the town were flashed up on the giant screen as the story progressed. An example was the beautiful dance performed by Yasmin Branch and Joe Cook, who took their child Emma Hutchin to recreate Henry Moore's famous Family Group sculpture. The music and video that ended the show were sublime and thought-provoking.

What makes artistic director Annette Lidster's work so exciting is how large numbers of performers work smoothly together on stage while captivating the audience with their individual performances.

A special mention must be made for Carrie Webster who so ably understudied a Razed Roof favourite, Simon Mok.

This was a great night out for the appreciative audience who left with the warm, inner glow that their time in Harlow had been rightly celebrated.

One Night Only Harlow Theatre Company Harlow Playhouse

FOR one night only Harlow Theatre Company presented an evening of improvisational comedy devised and hosted by HTC stalwart Jim Thompson.

Based loosely on Whose Line Is It Anyway and Fast and Loose, four intrepid HTC members played out a total of fourteen 'games' including the well-known party quirks, a pastiche of Blind Date and finding an imaginative use for some unusual props.

The inimitable Jim Thompson got the evening off to a good start with a short stand-up routine, warming the audience up nicely for what was to come before settling down to host the show.

All of the improvisations were received with hilarity and the audience made their own contribution when invited to suggest settings or themes for some of the games.

Working without a script and spontaneously coming up with ideas is a tricky business and Danielle Brown, Maggie Ellis, Wendy Parsley and Kyle Jagers all performed bravely and energetically.

Danielle was particularly impressive. Her appealing stage presence and use of a quick wit generally proved more effective than the overworked references to body parts used by some of the other performers. In spite of this - or perhaps because of it - by the end of the evening the audience had been thoroughly entertained.

This show was part of the Harlow Festival and was the first time HTC had appeared at The Playhouse for 17 years. While they continue to impress at Victoria Hall, it would be good to see them back at the town centre theatre in the future with something more scripted.

Space invaders take a trip into alien territory

PROMETHEUS (3D & 2D)
certificate 15, 2h04m

IT is more than 30 years since Ridley Scott proved that in space, everyone can hear you scream – loudly.

Now, in what is one of the most hotly anticipated releases of the year, the Oscar-nominated director returns to the science-fiction genre and the ultimate deep space killing machine: Alien.

Prometheus is a prequel of sorts, offering tantalising clues to the origins of the acid-blooded predator and the human race.

In the late 21st century, the Weyland-Yutani Corporation finances an archaeological dig led by Meredith Vickers (Charlize Theron) to uncover the secrets of an alien race known as the Engineers.

Vickers recruits astrophysicist Dr Elizabeth Shaw (Noomi Rapace), xenoarchaeologist Dr Theo Zedmore (Guy Pearce) and fellow astrophysicist (Ben Foster) to lead the mission and they discover vital information plotting the location of the Engineers' home planet.

Determined to learn more about these omnipotent creatures, Vickers spearheads a mission to the far-off solar system. A spaceship called Prometheus captained by Jeremiah Janek (Idris Elba) provides the transport and Vickers bolsters the crew with top men and women in their fields including medical officer Fifield (Sean Harris) and engineer Yuri (Rafe Spall).

Operations android David 4.0 (Michael Fassbender) keeps a dispassionate eye on proceedings but as the party touches down on the Engineers' home world they are woefully unprepared for the horrors that await them and they must fight a terrifying battle to save the future of the human race.

SNOW WHITE & THE HUNTSMAN
certificate 12A, 2h07m

ORIGINALITY is a scant resource in Hollywood, which probably accounts for two re-workings of Snow White in almost as many months.

But while Mirror, Mirror (starring Julia Roberts and Nathan Lane) put a broad comedic spin on the Brothers Grimm fairytale, Rupert Sanders' sweeping fantasy is a much darker affair.

The opening half hour barely features the eponymous heroine, who we are told by the voiceover narration "was adored throughout the kingdom as much for her defiant spirit as her beauty".

Once Ravenna (Charlize Theron) ascends to the throne, she incarcerates her stepdaughter Snow White (Kristen Stewart) in a tower and plans to attain eternal youth by ripping out her beating heart.

But the plucky heroine escapes the dungeon and flees into the aptly named Dark Forest where Ravenna's magic holds no sway. So she hires a huntsman (Chris Hemsworth) to track down Snow White and deliver the girl to her doom.

However, he falls under the girl's spell and agrees to help her overthrow Ravenna with the assistance of childhood friend William (Sam Claflin) and eight pint-sized former miners – Beith (Ian McShane), Muir (Bob Hoskins), Gort (Ray Winstone), Nion (Nick Frost), Duir (Eddie Marsan), Coll (Toby Jones), Quert (Johnny Harris) and Gus (Brian Gleeson).

TOP CAT: THE MOVIE
certificate U, 1h30m

TOP Cat (voiced by Jason Harris) and his buddies Benny (Chris Edgerly), Choo Choo (Harris), Fancy Fancy (Matthew Piazzi), Spook (Ben Diskin) and Brain (Harris) enjoy the run of Manhattan's alleys despite the best efforts of Officer Dibble (Bill Lobley) to thwart their scams.

Their latest ruse involves getting close to the visiting Maharaja of Pikachu, who is well known for giving away rubies as tips. But their antics are quickly curtailed by the new chief of police, Lou Strickland (Harris again), who installs CCTV cameras on every corner and mans the streets with automaton cops.

Consequently, the gang have to adapt their cons while TC himself pursues a date with Strickland's sexy secretary, Trixie (Melissa Disney).

>>still on screen

WHAT TO EXPECT WHEN YOU'RE EXPECTING Rom-com about five couples feeling the strain of impending parenthood. Among the terrified throng of expectant parents are keep fit guru Jules (Cameron Diaz) and her dancer beau Evan (Matthew Morrison), and cash-strapped photographer Holly (Jennifer Lopez) and her baby-shy husband Alex (Rodrigo Santoro) who are waiting for news about their adoption application. Meanwhile, Rosie (Anna Kendrick) avoids old flame Marco (Chace Crawford) after a carefree night of lust has dramatic consequences and baby shop owner Wendy (Elizabeth Banks) and her insecure husband Gary (Ben Falcone) are delighted to start a brood. But their excitement is tempered by Gary's ultra-competitive father Ramsey (Dennis Quaid) and his trophy wife Skyler (Brooklyn Decker), who announce they are having twins at exactly the same time.

MEN IN BLACK 3 Boglodite assassin Boris The Animal (Jemaine Clement) escapes from the Lunar Max high security prison and travel back in time to kill the man who put him behind bars – Agent K (Tommy Lee Jones). The ripple effect causes Agent K to disappear from the future, heralding a full-scale Boglodite invasion of Earth. And so Agent J (Will Smith) also travels back to 1969 in a race against the clock to save his best friend from annihilation.

THE DICTATOR Sacha Baron Cohen plays Admiral General Aladeen, tyrannical ruler of the African state of Wadiya. During a visit to America to address the United Nations about his nuclear arsenal, Aladeen is usurped by his duplicitous brother Tamir (Sir Ben Kingsley) and cast adrift on the streets. Zoey (Anna Faris), the tomboyish manager of a vegan feminist non-profit co-operative, takes pity on Aladeen who she accepts as an immigrant called Allison Burgers, but sparks of romance are continually extinguished by Aladeen's bigotry. Eventually, Zoey discovers that Aladeen is wanted for war crimes and is horrified by the truth.

AVENGERS ASSEMBLE When a dangerous new enemy threatens the safety of mankind, Nick Fury (Samuel L Jackson) – director of the international peacekeeping agency known as S.H.I.E.L.D – scours the globe in search of the ultimate team of superheroes. Aided by fellow agent Maria Hill (Cobie Smulders), Fury recruits Iron Man (Robert Downey Jr), The Incredible Hulk (Mark Ruffalo), Thor (Chris Hemsworth), Captain America (Chris Evans), Hawkeye (Jeremy Renner) and Black Widow (Scarlett Johansson) to save the day. At first it proves difficult to get such strong personalities to meld, especially with Thor's evil brother Loki (Tom Hiddleston) causing mischief. But evil must be vanquished and the heroes come together in humanity's hour of greatest need.

Don't bite off more than you can chew.

otherwise it could become potentially indigestible. Life has been emotionally hectic, so be on your guard at home and work against those who criticise or refuse to listen. You will be very much in your element with ample scope for some fast moving decisions. However, keep a tight rein on outgoings. Call for your financial scope...

Taurus Apr 21-May 21
Tricky moods and complications seem set to thwart your plans and hopes. Cultivate a critical attitude and don't gloss over anything that you feel may be two-edged. If necessary, cut your losses. Sooner than later, it will be plain sailing as efforts to improve your situation begin to evolve. The key is to diversify, experiment and explore. Call for more news and advice...

Gemini May 22-Jun 21
Clouds come and clouds go. Between fun intervals, outings and intense connections, the emotional weather is determined to keep you at odds with others. Numerous events are bound to delight, but don't go to extremes as your behaviour will be seen as fixated and self-centred. A more leisurely pace in daily affairs will attract a well-deserved bonus. Call for more...

Cancer Jun 22-Jul 23
In the changing tapestry of time, you are being further reminded that many of your goals are possible. At present your progress is slow. At least you can use the extra space to rebuild whatever has been a setback. Don't ignore your original idea, just moderate any overhanging aspects. Meanwhile, the stars can spark up your social life. Call for your in-depth forecast...

WIN Tickets to a show packed with lots of razzle dazzle

FRESH from his success in new hit TV series Smash, Raza Jaffrey joins the West End cast of Chicago as celebrity lawyer Billy Flynn.

Then former Olympics Games champion figure skater and Dancing on Ice star Robin Cousins will be stepping into Raza's shoes from July 17 until September 8.

"Murder, greed, corruption, exploitation, adultery and, treachery... all those things we hold near and dear to our hearts." So begins one of the most phenomenal musicals of our time.

Now the longest-running Broadway musical to play London's West End, it's no wonder The Times calls it the sharpest, slickest show on the block.

Chicago, which is being performed at the Garrick Theatre in Charing Cross Road, is the kiss-and-tell story of chorus girl Roxie Hart who kills her lover, of glamorous double murderer Velma Kelly and of Billy Flynn, the slick and manipulative lawyer keeping them from Death Row while promising to make them stars.

Filled with stunning choreography inspired by the legendary Bob Fosse, this multi award-winning production has a sizzling score including All That Jazz, Cell Block Tango and Razzle Dazzle.

This week we are giving you the chance to be razzled and dazzled by true West End classic with five pairs of tickets to give away.

Simply answer the question on the competition coupon and return it to Chicago Competition, Harlow Star, PO Box 268, Cambridge, CB24 6HF by Wednesday,

Three-bed detached with conservatory and garage

coverproperty

Location Corner Meadow, Harlow

Category Three-bed detached

Additional Conservatory, en suite to master bedroom, garage

Guide price £275,000

Agent Howick & Brooker, Gothic House, High Street, Old Harlow. Telephone (01279) 418888

THIS week's cover property is a three-bedroom detached family home tucked away in a little-known corner of Harlow near Latton Common.

In recent years the house has been upgraded by the current owner and now has a conservatory and a new bathroom.

There is also a ground floor WC and an en-suite to the master bedroom.

Walk through the front door and you step into the entrance hall where there are doors leading off to the kitchen, dining room, lounge and cloakroom. Stairs rise to the first floor.

The lounge is a good size and decorated in neutral colours, while the separate dining room has doors opening into the conservatory, which in turn provides access to the back garden.

The kitchen is a light, bright room facing on to the front of the house.

Upstairs there are the three bedrooms as well as the family bathroom. Bedroom one is a good size and has an en-suite bathroom.

Outside there is a garage and driveway, while the back garden is a pretty, sunny and secluded area with a patio.

For full details or to arrange an appointment to view, call selling agents Howick and Brooker on (01279) 418888.

Retirement apartment for £102,500

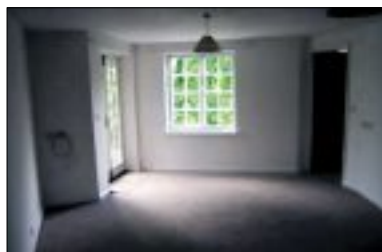

THIS second floor apartment in central Bishop's Stortford is in a well-maintained retirement development for the over 55s.

The development is warden assisted and has excellent communal facilities. There are lifts to all floors and the communal areas include a guest suite for overnight visitors and well-tended gardens with seating areas.

The apartment has an entrance hall, one double bedroom, kitchen, bathroom, living room/diner and a pretty balcony offering views of the park and the River Stort.

Ilanga Property has full details on (01279) 721212.

Yours for £389,995

SITUATED off Old Hall Rise at Denby Grange in Church Langley, this detached house is in a cul-de-sac location.

It has a dual aspect lounge, ground floor cloakroom, separate utility room, conservatory and four bedrooms.

There is an en-suite to the master bedroom and a delightful galleried-style landing.

The back garden is a manageable 35ft and there is a garage with power and light connected as well as driveway parking for two/three vehicles.

Kings Group at Church Langley has full details on (01279) 410084.

Priced at £284,950

WITH a great deal of spacious accommodation laid out across three floors, this attractive property is in the sought-after Malkin Drive, a cul-de-sac on the Church Langley development in Harlow.

There are four double bedrooms, with an en-suite to the master bedroom.

To the rear is a beautifully landscaped garden with a paved patio area ideal for al fresco entertaining. There is also a garage and parking for two cars.

Wright & Co have full details of this property. Call (01279) 600400 to arrange a viewing.

I'm Feeling Redundant!!

After 43 years of rushing around like a lunatic I've actually hit a brick wall, or sort of anyway!

I am surrounded with a team of excellent individual Estate Agents, probably the best team I have ever had the privilege to work with.

Over the years I have met and worked with many characters, lunatics and brilliant individuals but never all in one place at the same time and, as a team to match who I am privileged to work with now on a day to day basis here in Gothic House.

It is a fun experience watching the boys & girls dealing with all the same old problems I have experienced over the last four decades, different people and houses but always the same problem or problems, nothing changes, regardless of modern technology.

Computers, emails, fancy communication methods, on-line selling, you can name any modern gismo but the basic s have not change a tiny little bit, estate agency and house selling still go together like a hand in glove .

But, there is one significantly change I have witnessed, The estate agents of today are a lot younger than me and they can work technology, all I can do is giving it a good kicking!

Working with Builders

When you buy a property that needs work, you usually hope to be able to recoup the cost of renovation by adding significantly to the future selling price. That's the theory anyway! But getting the builders in can be stressful, and we have all heard stories of extortionate costs, unforeseen extras, no-shows, and poor, even dangerous, workmanship.

When assessing trades people, there are several things you can do to avoid disappointment or financial loss. For example:

- Ask a friend in an allied profession such as a surveyor or architect to recommend names of proven trades people.
- Don't rely on your own guesstimates! Decide what you want to do, get several quotes (not estimates) and work your budget around these.
- Don't give details of your budget to the builder.
- Factor in incidentals such as alterations to plumbing, wiring or tiling that may be affected by your work. Get quotes from specialists.
- Tradespeople work best with people they know, so ask your chosen builder to recommend other specialists.

- Don't be afraid to ask to see previous work and speak to the client.
- Don't overlook the cost of removing rubble, old carpets, etc. Skips bulk out quickly and can cost over £150 a time.
- Request an invoice in stages, and avoid cash in hand.
- Ask if any discount associated with the builder's trade accounts will be passed on to you. If so, ask for receipts.
- Agree a finish date with penalties for failing to meet deadlines.
- Decide how realistic it will be to live in the property during renovation. Could this slow the builder down?
- Qualifications and memberships give a good indication of professionalism. E.g. Guild of Master Craftsmen builders, CORGI registered plumbers, NECEIC approved electricians.

With the building trades you really do get what you pay for, so avoid the temptation to cut corners!

Mazda bring its '5' alive

By Iain Dooley

IT might be a cliché but it's true that you can't afford to stand still in the car business.

As fuel prices continue to rise and buyers seek more efficient modes of transport, the key to any future success will be to produce vehicles that offer meaningful savings. However, achieving this without impacting negatively on the ownership experience isn't easy.

Mazda hopes it has cracked it with the development of a suite of efficiency and performance improvements that it can apply to whole range of vehicles.

Dubbed 'Skyactiv' by the Japanese car maker, it hopes the various developments will help to enhance its future models in the eyes of buyers.

First up to get the treatment is the new mid-size SUV, the CX-5. Sitting below the long running CX-7, this new model is a five-seater with the option of front and four-wheel drive plus the choice of diesel and petrol engine and manual and auto transmissions.

Weight is a killer in the car business; not only can it impact negatively on crash performance and fuel economy but it also doesn't help when it comes to vehicle agility. High-rise SUVs often feel it the most, which is why Mazda has chosen a combination of stronger and lighter weight materials for the CX-5's construction. This hasn't come at the expense of safety, as the company is keen to stress that it's spent considerable time fine-tuning crash structures as part of its Skyactiv philosophy.

SUV agility is another area for improvement. The company wanted to ensure the CX-5 complimented and not blighted the reputation of the likes of the MX-5 roadster and 6 family car.

The good news is that the engineers have largely succeeded, with the CX-5 feeling uncharacteristically agile for an

SUV. Think of it more as a high-rise family hatch and you'll get the picture. Weighty controls should appeal to the keen drivers while ride comfort easily rivals that of a conventional car.

Despite the option of all-wheel drive, the CX-5 is no extreme mud-plugger but its behaviour should please those who tow.

A lot of the CX-5's on-road talent can be traced to its engines. This is another Skyactiv-themed element of the car, as the units offer low levels of consumption and emissions alongside above average levels of performance.

The line-up starts with a 163bhp petrol motor for those focused on two-wheel drive motoring. Diesel power is a strong favourite among 4x4 drivers for obvious reasons – plenty of torque and sensible economy. Mazda's take on diesel power for CX-5 is to offer two 2.2-litre units (148bhp and 172bhp).

Among the various engineering tweaks, it's chosen to fiddle with the compression ratios to maximize both economy and power, the end result being a very creditable 61.4mpg and 119g/km CO₂ for the low power motor in two-wheel drive guise and 54.3mpg and 136g/km CO₂ for the high power unit when chosen with all-wheel drive. Performance is also brisk, with a sub-nine second 0-62mph time for the 172bhp diesel and a 9.4 second time for the all-wheel drive 148bhp car.

In practical terms the CX-5 performs very well. Mazda's engineers have done a good job of balancing the need to reduce consumption and emissions with the desire to make the car engaging and interesting. That it rides well is a major plus and demonstrates that the firm's Skyactiv-themed technology bundle is more than just a promotional hook.

Staying with the practicalities of ownership, the CX-5's cabin is up to Mazda's usual high standards regarding fit and finish, while occupants won't be short of space, especially in the back.

Overall, the car's cabin is as well screwed together and as comfortable as many of its premium-priced rivals.

The CX-5 is also well equipped. Two core trim levels deliver a considerable amount of kit out of the box, with the base SE-L including a decent audio unit, MP3 player connections, Bluetooth, climate control, fully adjustable front seats, plenty of airbags and electronic stability controls. Sport adds bigger wheels, leather, reversing camera, upgraded audio unit and keyless entry.

Each trim level can be boosted by an integrated TomTom-branded sat-nav while selected models can also be specified with a optional safety pack comprising lane departure warning, auto-sensing headlight high beam control and a rear vehicle monitor.

Generous in many ways – equipment, performance, wallet-friendly economy – Mazda's CX-5 promises to put the company on the shopping lists of cost-conscious motorists seeking a good balance of low running costs and premium-level refinement.

With the promise of similar performance gains from other future models, Mazda's new-found engineering talent shouldn't be underestimated.

End of the road for your vehicle?

Responsible drivers scrap their vehicles at an Authorised Treatment Facility (ATF).

Because only an ATF can legally scrap a vehicle. That means any pollutants will be made safe before it's recycled in an environmentally friendly way.

What's more, for certain types of vehicle you'll get a DVLA approved Certificate of Destruction (CoD). A CoD proves that the ATF has told DVLA your vehicle has been scrapped and so is no longer your responsibility. www.direct.gov.uk/motoring

Great value Travel Offer!

Wimbledon Day Trip

Departs 8 July 2012

This is your chance to soak up the unique atmosphere of the world's premier Grand Slam tennis championships. You too could be there, wandering around the outside courts, sitting on the very impressive No. 1 court, savouring those famous strawberries and cream – with perhaps a glass of Champagne or Pimms – spotting those tennis celebrities and well known personalities.

This Day Trip, which takes place on the final Sunday, includes a seat on the wonderful 11,000 seater No. 1 Court, where you will see the stars of tomorrow and yesterday competing in the Junior and Veterans' events.

Includes • Return coach travel from your local area
• Full day at Wimbledon with a reserved seat on Number One Court • The services of a tour manager throughout

Customer Services Manager

£18 - 21k

Harlow Leisurezone is a large state-of-the-art Community wet and dry leisure centre and we are looking to recruit an experienced and pro-active full time Customer Services Manager. The postholder will undertake a wide range of tasks and duties relating to front and back of house responsibilities as well as manage our reception and its large team of Customer Service Advisors.

The two key areas of responsibility will be to ensure that our members receive a high standard of customer service and as manager, take responsibility for providing an efficient and effective operation. Secondly, to lead and motivate our small sales team to generate additional members.

To be our ideal candidate you will have previous relevant experience of working with customers on the front line, sales knowledge, and have exceptional communication and leadership skills with the ability to organise individuals and teams. The position is rota based and involves some hours of working on the front desk and working a range of our opening hours to include occasional evenings and weekends.

Packed full of jobs throughout the region

With 3 stars from Best Companies and a top ten placing in the Sunday Times Top 100 best employers, we are committed to better homes, services and business. 2012 is a very exciting and progressive time to join our team.

Both roles are full-time and temporary for an initial six months. Flexibility in working hours and use of a car is required.

Trainee Income Recovery Officer

Based Hoddesdon • £18,848 pa

Are you interested in assisting residents to sustain their rent payments whilst providing a personal service tailored towards individual needs? Your main focus will be on rent collection including former tenant arrears and sundry debts, by working with tenants to make agreements to reduce or clear the arrears. You will work closely with the Tenancy Support workers, Housing Benefit Department and Citizens Advice Bureau to try to ensure that our tenants are getting the help and support they need to sustain their tenancies and avoid debt. You may need to attend court for possession proceedings and ultimately evictions. You will require good IT skills (knowledge of QLx is an advantage), ideally have some experience within a similar role and a commitment to customer focus and teamwork. A CRB check is required.

Lettings & Tenant Liaison Co-ordinator

Based Hoddesdon • £22,504 pa

This is an interesting and varied role with a mix of both front-line work and administration using a number of IT systems including Excel. You will work on your own initiative managing the lettings process from pre-inspections of void properties to accompanied viewings with prospective tenants whilst keeping void times to a minimum. An eye for detail is important as you will be setting up and processing legal documents including a range of tenancy agreements. You will need to be customer focused and mindful of the needs of more vulnerable residents, often assisting in arranging and co-ordinating their move.

We offer a competitive benefits package including generous holiday, a personal pension scheme, private medical insurance and access to leisure facilities. Please apply online at www.broxbourneha.org.uk/recruitment.html

Essex County Council

(Various Roads, Harlow) (Temporary Prohibition of Traffic) Order 2012

Notice is hereby given that the Essex County Council has made the above Order under Section 14(1) of the Road Traffic Regulation Act 1984.

Effect of the order: To temporarily close the various lengths of roads in the District of Harlow as specified:

Road	Description	Alternative Route
A1025 Third Avenue, Harlow	From its junction with Harberts Road heading in an easterly direction for 150 metres.	A1025 Third Avenue – A1019 Central Avenue – A1019 Velizy Avenue – A1019 Allende Avenue – A1019 Fifth Avenue – A1169 Elizabeth Way – A1169 Third Avenue – A1025 Third Avenue.
Carters Mead, Harlow	From its junction with Southern Way heading in a northerly direction for approximately 200 metres.	Carters Mead – Potter Street – Southern Way.
Churchgate Street, Harlow	From its junction with Sheering Road heading in a southerly direction for approximately 110 metres.	Sheering Road – B183 Gilden Way – First Avenue – A414 London Road – Second Avenue – Potter Street – Harlow Common – Foster Street – Boar Head Road – Hobbs Cross Road.
Garden Terrace Road, Harlow	From its junction with High Street heading in a northerly direction for approximately 80 metres.	High Street – St Johns Avenue – Garden Terrace Road.
Harberts Road, Harlow	From its junction with Fourth Avenue heading in a southerly direction for approximately 420 metres.	A1025 Third Avenue – Haydens Road – Fourth Avenue.
Hobbs Cross Road, Harlow	From its junction with Elmridge heading in an easterly direction for approximately 230 metres. From its junction with Elmridge heading in a westerly direction for approximately 120 metres.	Churchgate Street – Sheering Road – B183 Gilden Way – A414 London Road – Second Avenue – Potter Street – Harlow Common – Foster Street – Boar Head Road – Hobbs Cross Road.
Latton Common Road, Harlow	From its junction with Trotters Road heading in an easterly direction for approximately 280 metres.	Latton Common Road – Brook Lane Field – Trotters Road.
Long House Lane, Harlow	From its junction with The Fairway heading in a northerly direction for approximately 180 metres towards its junction of Tilegate Road.	Tilgate Road – Tawneys Road – The Fairway.

The closures are scheduled to commence within an 18 month period from the 4 June 2012 or where appropriate signs are showing and weather permitting, and are required for the safety of the public and workforce while highway maintenance works are undertaken. Exact dates of the road closures will be notified via advanced warning signage on sites. Letters to residents and other affected or interested parties advising of the works/dates and other relevant information will also be sent out at least 2 weeks in advance.

Access for emergency service vehicles and pedestrians will be maintained at all times during the closure.

The Order will come into effect on 4 June 2012 and may continue in force for 18 months or until the works have been completed, whichever is the earlier.

(Unnamed footpath running through underpass below First Avenue, Harlow) (Temporary Prohibition of Use) Order 2012

Notice is hereby given that the Essex County Council intends, not less than seven days from the date of this notice, to make the above Order under Section 14 (1) of the Road Traffic Regulation Act 1984.

Effect of the order: To temporarily close that length of Unnamed footpath running through underpass below First Avenue in the District of Harlow from a point 90 metres east of junction with Park Lane proceeding north in an anticlockwise loop beneath First Avenue for its entirety to a point on the south side of First Avenue 54 metres east of Park Lane and 110 metres east of Park Lane.

The closure is scheduled to commence on 11 June 2012 for 6 months or where appropriate signs are showing and weather permitting, and is required for the safety of the public and workforce while works for the realignment of underpass approach ramp due to the residential development is undertaken.

An alternative route has been provided by the signalled pedestrian crossing immediately to the west of the junction between First Avenue and Park Lane.

The Order will come into effect on 11 June 2012 and may continue in force for 6 months, or until the works are finished, whichever is the earlier.

Liz Saville, Head of Network Management, County Hall, Chelmsford.

Dated: 31 May 2012.

NOTICE OF APPLICATION FOR THE GRANT OF A PREMISES LICENCE UNDER THE LICENSING ACT 2003

Poundworld Retail Limited has applied to Harlow Council for the Grant of a Premises Licence for Discount UK Unit 12, The Water Gardens Shopping Centre, College Square, Town Centre, Harlow CM20 1AJ. To permit the sale of alcohol for consumption off the premises between the hours of 8am and 8pm daily. Morley Grove (numbers 1 to 56) Proposed Article 4 Direction PUBLIC CONSULTATION – 29th May 2012 to 19th June 2012

Under Article 4(1) of The Town and Country Planning (General Permitted Development) Order 1995 (as amended), Harlow Council is proposing an Article 4 Direction which would affect property numbers 1 to 56 Morley Grove.

The Direction would remove permitted development rights, which allow dwelling houses to be used as houses in multiple occupation (HMOs) without first obtaining planning permission. It is intended that the Direction will come into force on 1st July 2013. From this date, property owners wishing to use their dwelling houses as HMOs would first have to apply for planning permission from Harlow Council. This application would not, however, be subject to a fee.

Harlow Council is carrying out a public consultation on the Direction between 9am on 29th May 2012 and 5pm on 19th June 2012. Any comments received during this consultation period will be considered before the Direction comes into force.

You may view a copy of the proposed Direction, map and Information Sheet at:

- Harlow Central Library, The High, Harlow – during normal opening hours; or
- Harlow Civic Centre, The Water Gardens, Harlow between 9.00 am – 4.45 pm Monday to Friday; or
- Online at <http://www.harlow.gov.uk/morleygrovearticle4>

The above webpage also contains information on a similar proposed Article 4 Direction which affects house numbers 57 to 99 Morley Grove.

You may post your comments to: Morley Grove (numbers 1 to 56) Proposed Article 4 Direction, Forward Planning, Harlow Council, The Civic Centre, The Water Gardens, Harlow, CM20 1WG. Alternatively, you may email your comments to: morleygrovearticle4@harlow.gov.uk. When submitting comments, please state your name and address.

Comments must be submitted by 5pm on Tuesday 19th June 2012.

Academy set for kick-off

YOUNG footballers with a goal to get to the top can hone their skills at a new soccer academy in Harlow.

Former Harlow Town FC captain Leo Roget – who has played as a professional for Football League clubs including Southend United, Stockport County and Reading – will launch 3SA Starlets Scouting Academy at Mark Hall Sportscentre on Monday.

An expanded version of a similar soccer school run by Roget last year, the six-week course will give local youngsters the chance to unlock their potential with help from FA-qualified coaches.

They will also be able to show off their skills in front of scouts from professional clubs. Last year's Starlets course helped four Harlow teenagers win contracts at pro clubs and Roget said establishing the new academy was a step towards helping even more local young footballers realise their dreams.

"I've launched 3SA as a project to seek and nurture local, talented young footballers with the intention of forwarding the boys showing the most potential to professional football clubs," Roget explained.

"First and foremost though, the academy is a place for all boys to come and enjoy their football while improving their footballing abilities and developing as players."

The six-week course comprises of two one-hour training sessions each week. For more details or to book a place call 07933 547 525 or log on to www.3SAcademy.co.uk.

Debut to remember

FOURTEEN-year-old Matthew Billings enjoyed a debut to remember as he took the key wicket of his Sawbridgeworth skipper Mick Burrell – who bizarrely was playing for the other side – in a friendly against Harlow on Sunday.

Having seen the progress his Hertfordshire county colleague Ben Waring has made this season in the Sawbo first team, spinner Billings has surely set his sights on emulating his friend.

Sawbo captain Burrell had agreed to bat for Harlow who were a man short.

But he was dismissed pretty swiftly having only scored a few runs when young Matthew pitched a ball which went to mid-wicket and was caught by Vibhor Yadav – to kick off huge celebrations.

Leventhorpe School pupil Matthew ended with four wickets for 28 runs including an astonishing spell of three for one run in six balls!

Matthew manages to get great flight, but still maintains good accuracy and looks an excellent prospect.

His father Paul plays for the club's second team.

Harlow (179) were also undone by Kieran Morgan 4-41.

Sawbo earlier scored 299-5 off 45 overs (Rizwan Qureshi, 128 not out), and won the match by 120 runs.

Qureshi's knock included 10 fours and six sixes, while Joe Rudkin was 61 not out (six fours, two sixes).

Andy McGarry (9-1-18-2) and skipper Luke Heskett (9-0-46-2) took a couple of wickets each.

Cobras seal title

SUMNERS Cobras U-10s completed the league and cup double when they triumphed in the West Essex & East Herts Youth Football League.

It has been one of the most thrilling title races for many years in this League as three teams have been chasing glory.

Sumners beat rivals Langley Stations 2-1 to seal the trophy, pipping Frontiers Pumas.

Goalscorers were

Harry Bannister and Joss Almond.

The team had already won the WEEH League Cup by beating Langley Stations in the final.

Calver gets the Green light

A STRONG bowling display provided the platform for Harlow Town's home victory over Woodford Green in division three of the Shepherd Neame Essex League.

The hosts batted first after winning the toss in Saturday's clash.

Town made immediate inroads with skipper Dan Calver doing most of the damage, claiming three of the first four wickets.

Two of Calver's wickets came from bowling Woodford Green players direct.

Town debutant Scott Baker later claimed two wickets including that of Anthony Palmer (41), who was the only one of the first seven to make double figures.

Woodford, whose total was boosted by extras (45), were rescued by a ninth-wicket stand of 95 between Sean Martin (37) and Sarfraz Boriyawa (35).

The visitors were bowled out for 186 with Calver claiming 3-27. Baker took 2-15.

In reply, Ramya Upadhyay made a useful 42, but Town were struggling when they lost their fourth wicket on 72.

However, any home nerves were eased by Charlie Coleman.

He struck an unbeaten 70 from 60 balls including one six which was hit onto the course at nearby Canons Brook Golf Club.

Coleman, who also struck nine fours, received support from Ashley Alderson (21) in a fifth-wicket stand of 49.

Ronnie Yates made 11 not out, sharing in an unbroken 66 for the sixth wicket with Colman as the target was reached with nine overs to spare.

A comfortable win was gained by Harlow Town II (151-3; Shaun Alderson 55 not out) when they beat Woodford Green II (150; Simon Rowell 7-73) by seven wickets in the Shepherd Neame Essex League, 2nd XI div three.

Other league results:- Harlow Tn III 208-9 (Ashley Norcott 49) drew with South Woodford IV (286-6); Harlow Tn IV (201-3) bt Leigh-on-Sea IV (121) by 80 runs; Harlow Tn V (113) lost to Wanstead VII (199) by 86 runs.

Jan-tastic!

New man shines for super Harlow

AN unbeaten century from Ahmed Khawaja and a top knock from Usman Jan steered Harlow to an excellent home win over Orsett – and their first victory of the new campaign.

Replying to Orsett's 284-7 on Saturday, Harlow lost openers Rehman Ahmed (4) and Luke Monger (16) cheaply as the hosts slipped to 44-2.

However, the classy pair of Jan and Khawaja made batting look easy as they put on 120 runs for the third wicket.

In only his second game, Jan, who hit the ball to all parts of the ground, made 93 from just 73 balls, which included 14 fours and three sixes.

Khawaja had played a more supporting role in the partnership, but then took over, punishing any loose deliveries from the Orsett bowlers.

He was well supported by debutant wicket-keeper David Morgan, who has been signed from Hutton. Morgan made 29 and Andrew McGarry (15 not out) also lent valuable support.

Khawaja brought up his 100 after superbly hitting George Pavitt for four boundaries in a row and Harlow cruised home with eight overs left.

Khawaja finished on 110 not out from just 87 balls with 12 fours and 4 sixes.

Harlow captain Luke Heskett said: "It was great to get our first win and to beat a strong Orsett side. Ahmed [Khawaja] and Usman batted fantastically. This has given us confidence."

"Dave [Morgan] made a great start and looks a class act. It was a good effort to keep them to 284 and the fact we got it with eight overs to spare shows how good the wicket was."

"Cliff Clarke, the groundsman, deserves a lot of credit for the wickets he has prepared so far."

Earlier, Orsett batted first and Harlow made the early running.

McGarry and Khawaja dismissed both openers for ducks before Jan removed the dangerous Mo Akhtar for just 4, leaving Orsett just 24-3.

However, they recovered through Chanaka Withanage and Philip Keeping, before the latter was superbly caught by Morgan off McGarry for 29.

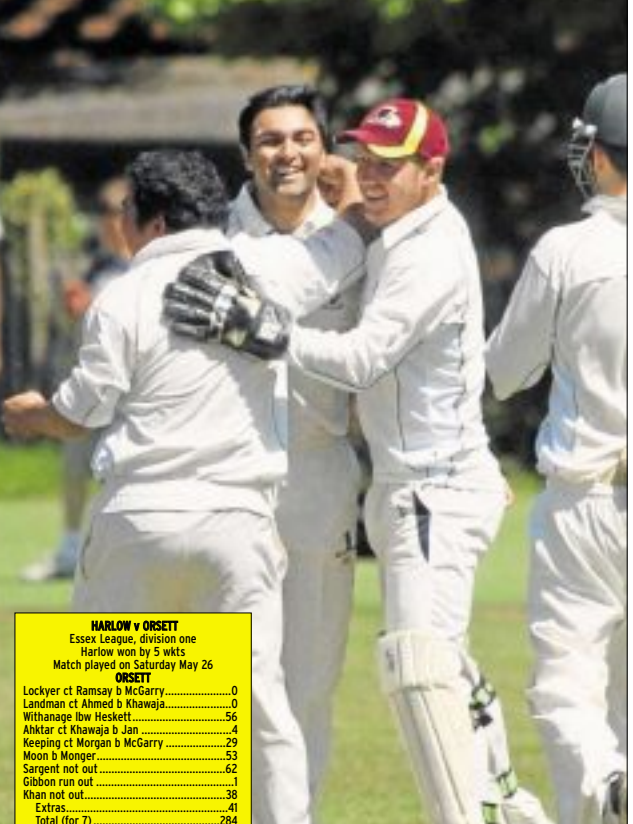

Withanage then went for 56 but the visitors' innings was sustained by Stuart Moon (53) and captain Kevin Sargent (62 not out).

An explosive 38 not out off just 19 balls from Shahid Khan took Orsett up to 284-7.

McGarry (2-31) was Harlow's most successful bowler.

Harlow visit Hainault & Clayhall, relegated from the premier division, in a tough test this Saturday. Harlow include debutant middle-order batsman Husnain Shah who has played in the Home Counties League, plus spinner Jack Davies who has been promoted from the second team.

Chiassaro a golden hope

that's what I came here to do. On windy days we go for position, not for times.

"With the line-up at the World Cup I was really pushed, and for the first 50 metres Mickey was side-by-side with me. But all in all it was a great day."

Having already competed in the Olympic Stadium at the London Disability Athletics Challenge, Chiassaro is desperate to be there for the real thing.

And after showing no signs of nerves in front of a 5,000-strong crowd in Manchester, Chiassaro got a taste of what to expect.

"The atmosphere was brilliant, there were more people at the World Cup than at the test event," he added. "It was definitely the biggest crowd I've performed in front of."

"I wasn't too nervous. When they say 'on your marks' I forget everything and then I just race. But if London sells out I'll be a bit more nervous."

● THE BT Paralympic World Cup took place in Manchester from 22-26 May with elite international athletes competing in athletics, football 7-a-side and wheelchair basketball. Go to www.btparalympicworldcup.com for more information.

Rudisha pulled out of Friday's race, but the former's Olympic credentials seem to be strong.

He finished well ahead of Great Britain rival Joe Thomas, who came last in a disappointing time of 1:51.39.

The performance in the Czech Republic is another plus for the Harlow runner who has enjoyed a brilliant 2012 so far.

Osgie ran excellently when he came third in an 800m race in a personal best (PB) time of 1:46.64 at the Samsung Diamond League meeting in Qatar earlier this month.

This followed him running a brilliant race to clinch a bronze medal when he came third in the final of the IAAF World Indoor Championships at Istanbul in March.

His time was 1:48.92.

Osgie will compete in the Diamond League in Rome today (Thursday), where he will once again rub shoulders with Bolt as the countdown to the Olympics continues.

Bolt and Osgie share the same agent.

World Cup fourth

ANNE Wafala Strike came fourth in the women's T53/54 100m race at the BT Paralympic World Cup in Manchester.

Her time was 18.73 seconds.

The Harlow athlete, who hopes to represent Great Britain at the London Paralympics, said: "I had a bad start and I have done faster times on that track."

"I had been doing nine days of training and racing in Switzerland and was a bit tired, but other competitors in Manchester had done the same too."

"I had [clocked] better times at the Swiss Championships. I had [clocked] 17.5 seconds and 17.7 seconds in the 100m."

Wafala Strike will be competing next in the 100m, 200m and 400m at the British Wheelchair Championships in Stoke Mandeville on June 9.

Disappointment for club in Thornton Cup

A YOUNG Canons Brook Golf Club team were left disappointed after they were knocked out at Stoke-by-Nayland Golf Club in a sudden death play-off in the second round of the Thornton Challenge Cup.

Sunday's tie on the club's Constable course in Suffolk finished 7.5-7.5 – resulting in the play-off.

This was won by talented Stoke-by-Nayland player Scott Brace, 23, on the third extra hole against Canon's Brook's Andrew Thomson.

>>golf

It might have been a long way for a game of golf, but it turned out to be a pulsating tie played over 36 holes on a very hilly golf course in glorious, sunny conditions.

The Harlow club trailed 4-1 at lunch time following the foursomes matches, but came back strongly in the afternoon singles.

Canons Brook's first five players came in with wins to gain a slight lead.

They were: Kieran Brownsell, Andrew Thomson, talented youngsters John Withington, Simon Hartley and Dan Goddard.

Gary Neve then halved his match, while Tyler Wink ensured Canons Brook ended with a flourish by sealing a win.

The opposition was tough for the remaining five players from the Elizabeth Way club, but they managed to tie the match at 7.5-7.5.

Heartache then followed for Canons Brook, but their club captain, George Edmonston was proud of the team.

He said: "I am rightly proud of my team and their captain Allyn [Charles]. They all played magnificently against a very strong team."

"Once again they have earned great credit to both themselves and Canons Brook Golf Club with their playing skills and attitude to the game of golf."

GB chief's hope for Huckle

GB shooting chief Phil Scanlan paid tribute to Harlow marksman James Huckle and the rest of the squad ahead of the 2012 Olympic Games.

It will be the 21 year-old's first ever Olympics.

Huckle, from Old Harlow, came home with medals at the Commonwealth Games in India in 2010, but this will be by far the pinnacle of his shooting career to date.

Team GB Shooting Team Leader Scanlan said: "I'm delighted with the team we have and I really do believe we have some great opportunities for medals."

"We've got a nice blend of youth and experience in the team, ranging from Richard Faulds who will be featuring in his fifth Olympic Games, to James Huckle and Jennifer McIntosh who are making the first steps in their promising careers."

"I think the team is really well balanced and I'm excited by the talent and potential we have."

Huckle has failed to guarantee his place after disappointing results at major shooting events in Europe this year.

However, he found out on Monday that he had been called into the squad after the BOA (British Olympic Association) cleared the nominations of British Shooting, the national governing body for the sport in the UK.

The squad was present at a publicity shoot at the Tower of London this week when they tried on their GB team track-suits.

"There will also be a tournament in France."

Huckle will also compete in Rome in June.

The former Mark Hall School student is thrilled at the prospect of being an Olympian, but wants to do well.

He said: "The dream is to get a medal and get gold but I cannot control how other people do."

"I have to focus on my technique and not be over-awed by the experience."

"I want to perform to the best of my ability and for the younger guys like me it is a great experience for the following Games."

He added: "I will be in three events and the blue riband one is the three position one [prone, standing and kneeling shooting from 50m]."

Huckle believes the chances of success in shooting are more open. "There are the top 30 shooters in the world and all have a great chance of getting a medal," he said.

A taste of what was to come came on Monday when the British shooting team went to the Tower of London for a publicity shoot.

Huckle said: "It was nice to wear the track suit. We all deserve our selection and it was nice that it was in a traditional setting."

be at the Royal Artillery Barracks in Woolwich.

Huckle has already competed at this venue, so knows what to expect.

The 10-strong GB squad is led by Richard Faulds, 35, who is selected for his fifth consecutive Olympic Games and won double trap gold at the 2000 Olympics in Sydney to record Britain's first gold medal in trap shooting since 1968.

Huckle will be competing in the 50m three position event (prone, standing and kneeling), 50m prone and 10m air rifle.

Huckle added: "We all have the chance to medal. It's a case of focusing on the training."

Roy wings it in Owls cup final

NEARLY 100 entrants started the Harlow Owls Open Darts Knockout 2012 event at the GPCA venue.

Alex Roy (Hertford) beat Mark Elliott (Hertford) 5-1 in the best of nine leg final.

Roy took the first leg with Elliott coming back to level before the former powered on, winning the next four legs to take the £300 first prize.

Elliott collected the £150 runners-up prize.

Roy beat Harlow's Damian Green 5-1 in the first semi-final.

Elliott defeated Hertford's John Creed 5-2 in the second semi.

Both losing semi-finalists gained £75 each.

Quarter-final results: Darrell Claydon (Hockley) 0, Damian Green 4; Dan Wood (Sawbridgeworth) 3, Alex Roy 4; Dave O'Meara (Hockley) 1, John Creed 4; Marj Elliott 4, Rob Turner (Chelmsford) 2.

Second best for English Cup duo

TWO Passmores School students gained runner-up spots in the English Schools Athletics Cup at Chelmsford.

The event on Thursday saw Year 8 student Amy Edwards run an impressive 800m to come second from eight runners in 2 mins, 39.2 secs. This was just outside her personal best.

Eleanor Moss (14) came second overall in the combined Year 9 and Year 10 javelin with a throw of 24.66m.

Meanwhile, Passmores student William Jansen, came fourth overall from Year 7 and 8 pupils in his first ever 1,500m track race.

He clocked 5:22.

HOPE: Chloe Rogers (s)

Countdown starts for Olympic GB ace Chloe

HOCKEY star Chloe Rogers is thrilled at the prospect of competing in her second Olympic Games – virtually on home turf.

The Harlow-born player was last week named in the Great Britain squad for the London show-piece.

Chloe, 27, was the top scorer for England in the 2006 World Cup and made her international debut against Japan in 2003.

She has competed in all major hockey tournaments since 2006, including the last two Commonwealth Games and the 2008 Beijing Olympic Games.

Chloe, who has played for Bishop's Stortford Hockey Club, was part of a team which won a bronze medal at the World Cup in Argentina in 2010.

This was the first ever World Cup medal won by an England women's team.

Chloe said: "I'm delighted to have made the final GB squad for the London 2012 Olympic Games.

"It has been the great effort and commitment over the last four years since the Beijing Games that has got the team to where we are now as we chase that gold at London 2012."

Now Chloe wants to complete her collection with a medal at the Olympics. "The first step has been achieved, to make the team, but we all have massive ambitions to achieve more than just being there," she said.

Essex County Councillor Stephen Castle, Cabinet Member for Education and the 2012 Games, said: "This is fantastic news for Chloe and of course very exciting for Essex as yet another local athlete will be representing us at London 2012.

"I want to congratulate Chloe for all her hard work and I hope the whole of Essex will join me in supporting her and wishing her all the best for the Games."

Chloe is an ambassador for Essex County Council.

Pythons seal cup triumph

THERE was more success for Summers Youth FC when the U-11 Pythons won their cup final.

Pythons showed venom in attack as they defeated Codicote Blacks 3-0 in the ORC Mid Herts Rural Minors League Division Three Cup final.

Goalscorers were Harry

BATTLE IN THE HEAT: Church Langley (in black) and Latton Green after deciding to share the HSP mini-hockey festival title (s)

Schools share hockey crown

THE spoils were shared by Church Langley Primary School and Latton Green Primary School at the annual Harlow School Sports Partnership mini-hockey festival.

This was the fourth successive year that a Church Langley team had come away with a winners' trophy from this competition, which was held at the Mark Hall Sportscentre in Harlow.

A tense final between the two schools ended at 1-1.

Golden goal extra time beckoned and both teams did well to ensure the score remained level during this period, given the matches already played and the heat that the competition was played in.

The schools could not be separated and it was decided they should share the crown.

In the semi-finals, Church Langley A beat close neighbours Henry Moore A and Latton Green beat Jerounds A.

Year 5 and 6 mixed teams played in the event and 100 children took part.

There were 12 teams in total, with youngsters from Nazeing Primary, St Luke's Catholic and Tany's Dell Primary schools all taking part.

Harlow SSP partnership manager George Gardiner said: "Everybody who took part today did really well, both with their hockey and in the heat and everybody should be pleased with their performance.

"Congratulations go to Church Langley and Latton Green for winning and displaying great sportsmanship in being prepared to share the title."

Wright way to debut with top marathon time

SHARON Wright ran an excellent first ever marathon when she just broke the four-hour barrier.

The Harlow Running Club member clocked 3 hours, 59 minutes and 43 seconds when she came 2,744th from more than 10,000 runners in the Edinburgh marathon.

She was followed home by Paula Green who clocked a personal best (PB) time of 4:46.38 in coming 5,672nd. Another marathon debutant, Catherine Ridge, was 5,690th in 4:46.53.

Other Harlow RC times were: Linda Hawkins 5:07.05, 6,606th; Janet Webster 5:07.59 PB, 6,641st; Michelle Aitken

Half marathon: Susan Dewen 2:17.26, 4,646th; Paulene Galoppi 2:22.18 PB, 4,954th.

Alan Broughton was the lead runner from a strong Harlow Running Club contingent in the Great Easton five-mile race.

Sunday's event near Dunmow in Essex saw Broughton come home seventh from 116 finishers in a superb time of 32 mins, 34 secs.

He was followed home by Roy Steven (16th, 34:43), John Tennant (17th 35:09) and Pasquale Pellicchia (29th, 36:36).

The trio also occupied the first three veteran 60 spots.

Linda Selby was the first vet 55 lady finisher in 47:07.

Other Harlow RC results: Sean Flynn 36:42, 30th; Janice Page 42:57, 64th; Karen Moir 46:46, 90th.

Harlow runner Jamie Jephcott came a highly creditable 360th from more than 10,500 finishers when he completed the BUPA London 10km race in 39:29.

David Croly (45:12) came 995th and Andy Kinney (48:35) was 1,605th.

Jubilant Huckle seals GB place at the Olympic Games

By DAVID RIMMER
david.rimmer@hertsessexnews.co.uk

IT was sheer joy for James Huckle after he had heard that he will be competing for the Great Britain shooting team at the London 2012 Olympics.

The 21 year-old, from Old Harlow, is thrilled not only at the thought of being involved in the Olympics, but the fact that the showpiece is on home soil.

Huckle, who heard the news earlier this week, told the Star: "To represent your country at the Olympics is an amazing opportunity and to be able to do so on home ground it is a dream come true."

"I am pretty sure that this will only happen once in our lifetime."

He added: "There will be a lot of social media and it will be more supportive. It will be more special."

Selection for the GB team is also a burden shed and it has not fully registered for the articulate young man.

He said: "It was a relief. I have put in a lot of hard work over five or six years and I now can put this into practise at the biggest sporting event in the world.

"It's a dream. It's hard to explain. It will be a long time for it to sink in."

Huckle does not want to rest on the laurels of selection.

He said: "In the next day or so I will be setting out a programme for the 60 or so days before the Olympics. There are also the English Championships.

It's Czech mate as Osagie's off like a Bolt!

WHILE the eyes of the world were on Olympic 100m and 200m champion Usain Bolt, Harlow's Andrew Osagie, above, continued to stamp his authority on the international stage.

Osagie (24), from Northbrooks, came second in the 800m at the star-studded Golden Spike meeting in the Czech Republic.

Friday's meeting in Ostrava saw Harlow Athletic Club member Osagie clock 1 minute, 45.24 seconds as he finished just behind highly-rated Pole Adam Kszczot (1:44.90).

Osagie told the Star: "It went well. I was just behind [Kszczot] who is one of the fastest in the world. I was very solid."

"It was another Olympic standard [time] and now I have three overall this year. Hopefully it helps to secure my place in the Olympics this summer."

Osagie would have been disappointed that world ranked number five 800m runner David

Chiassaro a golden hope

SETTING personal bests has become a habit for Richard Chiassaro and, even though he couldn't do so at the BT Paralympic World Cup, he still took gold to keep his London 2012 dream alive.

The 30 year-old, from Harlow, secured victory in the T54 100m in Manchester in a time of 15.04 seconds – less than 0.4s shy of his best – with compatriot Mickey Bushell taking bronze.

Chiassaro set personal bests in both the 100m, 200m and 400m at the British Wheelchair Racing Association National Track Championships at the start of May to put his name firmly in the mix for Paralympic selection.

And, after threatening to send his own records tumbling yet again at the World Cup, Chiassaro is relishing the opportunity of doing it on the grandest stage of them all.

"The aim now is just to get selected for London," said Chiassaro. "I've only been racing for three years so to make my first [Paralympic] Games would be a great achievement."

"If I get selected I'll be happy with that, and if I make the final afterwards I'll be even happier. I don't think I'm good enough to win at the moment but who knows in another four years?"

"Every race this year I've hit personal bests so I've got faster gradually. I was half a second off doing it again but considering the wind was high, I'm happy with the win. "I would have probably beaten it without that but you can't have everything. I won and
